

Torres, Francine

From: dtwahl@hotmail.com%inter2 [dtwahl@hotmail.com] on behalf of dtwahl@hotmail.com
Sent: Monday, August 15, 2005 11:42 AM
To: National List
Subject: Sunset review

To whom it may concern:

It is imperative that we continue to have Chilean Nitrate as a source of organic inputs at the current rate in order to maintain productivity and quality produce.

Also please maintain the fish product as currently stablized. This is too expensive for commercial, conventional growers but works well for large organic producers and garden producers.

I am afraid that if we do not keep current production tools in place we will loose a lot of producers who will get discouraged and quit due to low yields and poorer quality produce.

Thank-you,

Dick Wahl

Quality Ag

8/16/2005

Find e-mail and documents on your PC instantly with the new MSN Search Toolbar–FREE!